

Call for Papers

The Department of Education, College of Economics and Social Development is launching a journal entitled Journal of Education and Educational Development (JoEED) (applied for ISSN); a journal to support advancing educational development and establish a cutting-edge across a full range of interdisciplinary educational perspectives. The Journal of Education and Educational Development is a peer reviewed journal that is published twice annually. It publishes local, national and international research papers: empirical researches, action researches, case studies, research briefs, critical reviews, debates, and book reviews focused on interdisciplinary themes of education and educational development. The purpose of this journal is to provide a platform and invite work for dissemination from policy makers, researchers, teachers at university and school level, and research students globally. The journal is inviting the articles on the following themes, but not limited to:

Academic advancement	Inclusive education
Adult education	Innovation and best practices
Critical appraisal of education	Language and education
Curriculum development	Managing institutions
Developmental education	Policy and development
Early childhood development	Strategic management
Educational management	Teacher development
Emerging trends in education	Teaching and learning
Globalization	Technology integration

We are pleased to invite relevant and original manuscripts for JoEED. If you are interested to contribute, kindly send us your full length articles on education.journal@iobm.edu.pk.
