The Journal of Education and Educational Development (JoEED) is a bi-annual peer reviewed journal published by the Department of Education, Institute of Business Management. It publishes local, national, and international research papers: empirical researches, action researches, case studies, research briefs, critical reviews, debates, and book reviews focused on interdisciplinary themes of education and educational development. The purpose of this journal is to provide a platform and invite work for dissemination from policy makers, social scientists, researchers, teachers at university and school level, and research students globally.

Aims and Scope

The aim of this journal is to publish original and unpublished contributions that focus on both theoretical and applied research studies in education and related disciplines, offering diversity and a variety to its readers. The journal in each issue through publishing difference articles, case studies, book reviews, and critical reviews intends to present to its audience with interdisciplinary themes on education and educational development. The journal also provides a platform to the researchers and academics for sharing their scholarly work globally.

Editorial Policy

The submissions made to JoEED undergo a strict editorial and peer review process. All unpublished submissions for this journal go through a plagiarism check and a strict blind peer review process by at least two national and international referees. The author(s), who are interested in getting their work published in the journal, are considered to have accepted the editorial policy.

Publication Frequency and Format

We aim to publish our issues bi-annually, specifically in June and December.
